How we will evaluate:

- Track attendance and engagement
- Listen and take on board the views of the young people in general discussion and during end of session evaluation.
- Staff to debrief after each session
- Make improvements and changes to plans based on the feedback the young people give us during end of session evaluation.

What do we want young people to achieve?

- To see their ideas put into action through participation and empowerment.
- To feel that they are listened to, appreciated and respected
- To feel a sense of achievement when they see their ideas put into action
- To build positive, meaningful relationships with peers and trusted adults.
